Annual School Fair to be Discussed

On March 1st at 8 p.m., a meeting will be held in the Arrowwood School for the purpose of discussing the School Fair question for the coming year. The present committee would like to see a large turnout of representatives from Shouldice, Swastika, Buffalo, Dunree, Sunset Valley, Antrim, Trego, Arrowwood and other interested districts, so that the general opinion of the districts in regards to the holding of the Fair may be made known.

Railways Extend Low Week-end Fares

Montreal, Feb. 15—In response to public demand, low weekend round trip fares, which have been offered by the Canadian Pacific, Canadian National and other railway lines in the Dominion since last summer, will remain in force after February 29, the date originally set for their discontinuance.

In making this announcement, the Canadian Passenger Association draws attention to the privileges now in force and of which extension is now to be made. Round trip tickets between any Canadian stations for any week-end are offered by the railways at the rate of one and a quarter times the regular single fare. These tickets are good going from Friday noon until Sunday noon and returning until Monday night.

The travelling public will thus be able to continue its weekend journeys, which have been so popular during the past year, and it is anticipated that the volume of traffic will be even greater as the spring develops. The popularity of the concession is already assured by the thousands who have availed themselves of it, and its extension will, without doubt, be very welcome.

Hockey Notes

The Arrowwood Juniors gave a good account of themselves at Gleichen last Thursday when they defeated the Old Sun School team 2-1. The game was slow at first but in the second and third periods a flashy brand of hockey was played by both teams. C. Beach scored the first goal for Arrowwood to even the score and on a pretty piece of combination work C. Norton and Asselstine made the score 2-1 for Arrowwood.

Old Sun—George Turning Robe, Willie Cutter, Willie Mayfield, Tom McMaster, Art Waterchief, Moses McGuire, Peter Axe, Pete Blackhorse, Fred Cutter, Jackie Fox, Running Rabbit.

Arrowwood—Goal Norton, Eshom, Lewendon, C. Beagle, C. Norton, Asselstine, H. Williams, S. Beagle, M. Taylor, J. Clarke.

Arrowwood High School Concert Enjoyed By Large Turnout

The school was not large enough to seat the crowd that turned out to the Arrowwood High School Concert last Friday night. It was a most enjoyable evening's entertainment, and must have been a source of satisfaction to those responsible for the arrangements of this successful event.

The program was composed mainly of numbers from the High School and the various characters acted their parts well throughout the entire program. The four numbers from each of the public school rooms were equally well represented. Greater credit is due to the performers who took part in the concert, for their outstanding ability on the stage.

The patronage and support given local entertainments by Arrowwood and surrounding district, must indeed, be gratifying to all promoters of functions of this nature.

The Arrowwood High School annual concert is always looked forward to as one of the leading events of the season and this year it was exceptionally good. The capable instructors and their assistants proved beyond a doubt that they merited the support of the entire community.

The musical selections between acts by the orchestra added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

At a meeting of the Sr. C. G. I. T. held at the home of their leader, Miss Verna Ingraham on Monday evening, it was decided to entertain the Junior Group of the C. G. I. T. on Monday, March 7th.

Mr. C. E. Johnston gave the girls a very instructive address on "Choice of Life Work" in which he gave many valuable points to be considered in choosing one's occupation.

The Jr. C. G. I. T. met on Tuesday with Mrs. Saunders present. Hazel Taylor led the devotional and Clara Service in prayer. Mrs. Saunders addressed them on the work of the C. G. I. T. and read them a story "The House that Jacques Built" which was very much enjoyed by the girls. After a pleasant time spent in a sing song, apples and candies were served.

What of the East?

Things have become just a little too warm to be comfortable. Is Japan mad for blood, feeling that for her "Der Tag" has come or does she know that back of all these protests lies a cancer which renders them ineffective? Has the League of Nations become merely a "international debating club" unable to use even limited powers given it? Evidently there is something behind Japan's increasing aggressiveness. What is it?

It may well be that the European American peace spirit backed by war debt and depression has led Japan to feel that these nations will not go to war. And may she be right in this. Another war can do nothing but sink us deeper into the pit in which we are already mired. But there may be other reasons.

In a series of articles published in the Christian Century a few years ago a challenge was issued to deny any of the charges laid in them. And there was no reply. Yet it was very definitely stated that after the Great War, British and American warships lay in Smyrna Bay and saw helpless Greeks driven into the sea and the city fired. And the reason given for their inactivity was certain oil rights secured by Britain and American interests. Already we have drawn attention to the fact that seven British made aeroplanes passed over the main line of the C.P.R. on their way to Japan. And does the sale of this war machinery put such a strangle hold upon the nations that their words are ineffective? And we join with other journals in asking for "economic blockade." Why is it not enforced? If munition manufacturers have such control over nations and the League that their protests are void, then surely we are living under a system as bad as the reddest of the Reds. In Russia it was the peasant classes who carried out the "five year plan" and it is more than likely that the farmers and villagers of this continent shall have to break this iron monster.

Never Throw Stones

I would not throw a stone or stick,
No matter if I'm mad,
Because it's such an ugly trick
And may turn out so sad.
For it may blind a lovely eye,
With which we're meant to see;
And then no matter how they'd try
No one could comfort me.
For I would not rob that girl or boy
Of half the lovely sights
That keep this world so full of joy
Through all the days and nights.

Feeding Children

Good eating habits have much to do with health, and such habits are of the greatest importance during the years of childhood, when the body is growing rapidly. In addition to knowing what to feed the child, we need also to know how to feed him.

Regularity in feeding is desirable. This means that the proper foods, having been selected and prepared are to be served to the child at regular meal-times.

If a child is to enjoy his meals, he should come to the table hungry and ready to eat what is set before him. The child who is given food between meals is not hungry at meal-time; he is not interested in his proper food, and so he refuses to eat.

The child who is both hungry and rested enjoys his meals. No one, either child or adult, desires food when tired. Children should have a short period of rest before going to their meals.

Children are not all alike, nor do they feel just the same day after day. A child will be more hungry on some days than on others. It is not to be expected that children of the same age will eat the same amount of food, or that the child will want the same amount of food each day.

As long as the child is healthy and is gaining steadily in weight, his mother does not need to worry if he does not eat as much as her friend's child. She should not feel concerned if he does not eat heartily every day.

Adults must remember that children imitate them. A child's dislike for some food can often be traced to some adult who has, by word or action, shown that he or she dislikes that particular food. If the mother and father do not eat certain foods, or if they show their dislike for some particular food, they set an example that the child may follow.

Children demand attention; and the meal-time gives the child an excellent opportunity to attract attention to himself. If the parent is fussy, or scolds when the child does not eat, all the child has to do is to refuse to eat and he gets the attention he loves. That is one reason why it is better for the young child to eat alone, or with other children and not with adults.

New foods should be introduced to the child in small servings. The child should be told quietly that when he has taken the new food, he will have the remainder of his meal—the foods to which he is accustomed. If he refuses to eat, he should not be given any other food, and he should not be coaxed or scolded. Nothing should be given the child until the next meal. It will not do him any harm to miss a meal or two, provided he has plenty of water to drink. In this way he becomes really hungry and will eat the new food. The child who refuses food, in most cases, seeking attention.

Children should be taught to drink water between meals. It is a bad habit to drink a glass of water at the beginning of a meal, as this fills the stomach and destroys the appetite.

The cause of most difficulties in feeding is the result of irregularity of meals, feeding between meals, or a mother who is impatient or fussy and who shows her anxiety or anger to the child.

Cost of Producing Wheat

Particularly in years of low grain prices or low yields, cost of producing wheat is a much discussed topic in the Prairie Provinces. No attempt will be made to discuss methods used in arriving at such figures, but an outline is presented showing cost figures when only work used in producing the crop is charged against it.

Farm wages at forty dollars a month or 25c an hour with 35c an hour during harvest and 6c an hour for horse labor, were used as a working basis. In arriving at the cost per acre figures for the different implements, a ten-hour day was allowed. For example, in cutting grain, four horses were used at 6c an hour each for ten hours. This makes $2.40. The manual labor would cost $3.50. The total of $5.90 divided by 15 acres cut per day, gives a cost of 39c for cutting grain.

No matter what yield is obtained, there are a number of fixed costs. These include rent interest and depreciation on equipment, seed, and tillage operations. There is a slight variation for the particular crop, and the share of summer-fallow to be charged against the crop must also be taken into consideration. The average cost of summer-fallow for 1930 amounted to $6.78. This amount has been charged in proportion of two-thirds to the first crop after summer fallow and one-third to the second crop after summer fallow. It will be noted that ploughing has been used for stubble crops but if disking or cultivating is substituted the cost would be less. In order to explain fixed costs more clearly a table is presented.

FIXED COSTS PER ACRE, 1930

	Fallow	2nd Crop
Rent	2.40	2.40
Machinery	1.35	1.35
Seed	1.56	1.25
Cultivating	.24	.24
Harrowing	.44
Cutting	.39	.39
Stooking	.40	.40
Share of fallow	4.52	2.26
Plowing		1.14
Packing		0.21

Some criticism may be offered for the fixed charge of 40c per acre for stooking. In actual practise in 1930, when there was a good quantity of straw for all yields, the figures were close to this amount.

There are two costs which vary with the yield. These are twine and threshing. Fixed and variable costs are included in a table with from ten to fifty bushels of wheat on summer fallow, to show the relation of yield to cost per bushel.

COST PER ACRE OF PRODUCING WHEAT ON SUMMER-FALLOW IN 1930

Fixed Cost	Twine	Threshing	Total	Yield	Cost Per Bushel
11.54	.15	1.00	12.60	10	1.26
11.54	.22	1.50	13.20	15	0.88
11.54	.30	2.00	13.84	20	0.69
11.54	.37	2.50	14.41	25	0.58
11.54	.44	3.00	14.98	30	0.50
11.54	.51	3.50	15.55	35	0.44
11.54	.58	4.00	16.12	40	0.40
11.54	.58	4.50	16.62	45	0.37
11.54	.58	5.00	17.12	50	0.34

The important fact brought out by the above table is that cost per bushel of wheat on summer-fallow varies inversely with the yield. It should be remembered that it is a net cost which means that due allowance has been made for all items including manual labour with board from seeding till harvest.

It matters little what the average man thinks, just so he doesn't think out loud.

School Notes

Mr. Crispo, the public school inspector, is making his rounds in the Arrowwood School this week-end.

Malcolm; Last night I met a girl who had never been kissed. Norman: Impossible! I should like to meet her.

Malcolm; But she isn't that way now.

Irene: You are an incorrigible flirt. Today I saw you with a woman I have never seen before.

Harold: That must have been Ruby, my wife.

The Junior Red Cross members were very fortunate in being able to raise the sum of 6.05. They thank all those who bought tickets and those who so willingly sent candy for the box. The lucky ticket which won the candy was held by Raymond Johnston of Arrowwood.

The High School Concert was indeed a success, the hall being so crowded, there wasn't even standing room. We also noted many people from the surrounding towns and were well pleased with their patronage.

The Literary Society especially want to thank the other teachers of the Arrowwood School for the numbers which their pupils contributed.

Does your motor lack its original power and pep, the thrilling 'snap' and 'get-away' it once had?

Is it hard to start, lazy on hills or sluggish on the 'pick-up'?

When your car windows are closed, do you detect the presence of 'headachy motor fumes' inside?

Is the oil in your crankcase diluted and dirty after 500 miles of driving?

Does your motor stall occasionally when you are in a traffic snarl?

These are positive signs of 'compression-loss'—one of 3 Bad Habits that every motor develops sometime during its life. The other two bad habits are 'Oil-Pumping and Piston-Slap.'

These 3 Bad Habits are caused by worn pistons, worn piston rings and worn, tapped or out-of-round cylinders. Since wear in your motor cannot be prevented, you cannot prevent the 3 Bad Habits—even the finest of motor cars eventually develop one or more of them—but there is a positive and guaranteed cure for the 3 Bad Habits.

LIKE BABBLING BROOKS

There seems to be people in our city that take a great delight in stretching the truth. The erroneous and false statements that were circulated regarding the unfortunate accident that befell N. J. Lord last week were not only an injustice to Mr. Lord but a slanderous blot on our fair village.

If our city harbors people that feel it their duty to immediately inform their neighbors about a bit of news that has occurred, they should, at least, confine themselves to the truth and not add a lot of falsehoods that proves to be mere twaddle.

Don't forget that we offer you a substantial reduction in Van Brunt seed drills. This is your opportunity to get a new one at a great saving.

"The General was taken rather sick at the banquet last night."

"What from?"
"Oh, things in general suppose."

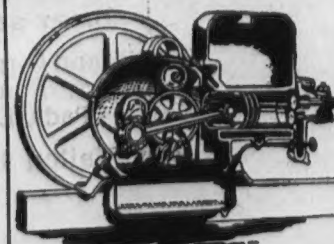

This mild weather has caused other thing to happen. There are those repairs that you are going to need and haven't said anything about yet. Also there is that tractor head that will need the valves tuned up or possibly some new valve seats installed. Now is the time to bring such work in before the spring rush starts—It won't be long now!

It is not too early to think about your spring requirements for Tractor fuels and lubricating oils. We have that popular fuel "Tractor Distillate" at that popular price.

Also "Autolene" and "Vulcan" motor oils at qualities to suit your motor and prices to suit your pocketbook.

When you think of tires, think of Firestones.

Water pumping! Grain treating! Or whatever the job may be, have you a dependable power unit to do the work? If not there is nothing more dependable, more satisfactory, more economical than a John Deere all enclosed self oiling, stationary engine. Any one can start it and you can rest assured that it will stick to the job until its done—or the fuel tank runs empty.
